Veteran with Disability Plans a Fundraiser to Help Others

Tallahassee, FL, August 27, 2016 – David Lowe is a veteran who happens to be a triple amputee that wanted to help Florida Disabled Outdoors Association help other people with disabilities. He came up with Dancing through the Decades - a concert with over six hours of live music and great food that will be held at the Sauls-Bridges American Legion on Saturday, August 27th. David had scheduled all the bands, secured the facility and recruited food donations and was starting to sell tickets when he fell. He injured his back and will be in the VA Hospital at Lake City for two months. What he wants more than anything is for the show to go on!

The board of the Florida Disabled Outdoors Association is picking up where he left off handling the logistics and selling tickets to honor David Lowe and keep the dancing going. The public can buy advance tickets at fdoa.org/dancing for only $20 or $30 for two. Tickets include music from 5:30 pm to midnight and food while it lasts.

“David Lowe has put together a great line-up. He enjoys great music and great food. We will have both. Tobacco Road will close out the show. David is an amazing guy that just wanted everyone with a disability to benefit from physical activity as he has,” stated Laurie LoRe-Gussak, Florida Disabled Outdoors Association Executive Director.

The line-up for Dancing through the decades includes Frankie Golden, Chazz Clooney, Red Hills Rhythm and Blues and Tobacco Road. Dancing and fun for people of all abilities will be the theme of the evening. Everyone is invited and welcome.

Florida Disabled Outdoors Association (FDOA) works to enrich lives through accessible inclusive recreation for all. They work to improve health and wellness for everyone through physical activity. People of all abilities are welcomed at programs, such as Miracle Sports, SportsAbility and others where families and friends can all play together and learn from each other. FDOA thanks its sponsors for their involvement and generosity.
